Jaipur

THE PINK CITY | UNESCO WORLD CRAFT CITY
MOST CREATIVE CITY & HERITAGE SITE | IT & STARTUP HUB

Jaipur, the capital of the marvelous state of Rajasthan, is one of the well-planned cities of its time. Jaipur was established by the then Maharaja, Sawai Jai Singh in the year 1727. The graceful architecture of the City that runs across in pink colour has earned Jaipur the title of "The Pink City".

Jaipur is predominantly Known for its musicians, artisans and craftsmen. The masses flock to it for its fine silver and gold jewellery, precious and semi-precious stones, beads, and sumptuous cuisine. The most sought-after famous handicrafts include blue pottery products, carpets, varied textiles, and leather products.

Jaipur is a destination of craft, for anyone to experience the uniqueness and innovative strength and skills of craftsmen, and the range of beautiful handcrafted products they produce. It is the talent of the craftsmen of Jaipur and the crucial role played by them in evolving the art and craft of the city supported by Royal Patronage in bygone time, that makes the city a must visit destination for all. It is no wonder that it is a place of choice for organizing and hosting international events, one of which is the perennial and famous Jaipur Literature Festival, the largest literary event in the world. Adding to the image and shine of Jaipur, the highly successful Fashion Colloquium 2020 organized and hosted by ARCH last year, increased its visibility multifold in the eyes of the international Design Fraternity that visited the city to participate. Jaipur remains alive in their memories and the experiences they carried back, and many wish to come back to spend more time here...

The cultural heritage, craft, and industry of 'Pink City, Jaipur' acts as catalyst in the study of design. The research- led, interdisciplinary learning practiced in the ambiance of this WORLD CRAFT CITY has attracted pluralistic identities & cultural contexts. Design students, researchers, teachers, and practitioners come here from across the planet to explore and contribute to the growing ecosystem.

Further, the burgeoning IT sector within the city has opened up new avenues for the rapid growth of start-up ecosystems. Based on the strength of startup ecosystem Jaipur ranks 7 in India and 181 globally.

ARCH College of Design & Business has been disseminating quality design education with an individual-centric focus for 24 years now, and it continues to do so!

ARCH's mandate is to nurture a culture of design and social entrepreneurship with a holistic, multi disciplinary approach. The goal is to create design professionals who can reinvent themselves and position design more strategically as an integrator of aesthetics, business, technologies, and sociological concerns. Through design education, ARCH endeavour to empower students with the knowledge, skills, values, and attitudes to address the interconnected global challenges faced today, such as unemployment, creative enterprises, trends of sustainability, and entrepreneurship. Thus, our theme for 2023 is: "Design for the Creative Economy."

Sharing other exciting developments – ARCH is a part of the Co-Life project with European higher educational institutions (HEIs) to create innovative measures in sustainable and social entrepreneurship for HEIs via solid networking between India and the EU. Additionally, we are in the process of completing a proposal to apply for Erasmus Plus funding towards developing an appropriate and helpful curriculum for a course in Social and Sustainable Entrepreneurship.

ARCH College hosted the first-ever Cumulus Student Talent Camp at Jaipur. This remarkable event brought together students from seven countries, representing prestigious institutions from around the globe, focusing on the theme of "Design Identity Direction."

Excited to announce a strategic collaboration with TIE Rajasthan, marked by the signing of an MOU aimed at enhancing the entrepreneurial ecosystem, especially in Creative and Cultural Industries. This partnership facilitates cross-promotion activities to empower entrepreneurs and startups, offering exclusive opportunities for ARCH Design Business Incubator, ARCH College of Design & Business students, and alumni to participate in TIE's global mentoring and startup support programs. The collaboration encompasses the exchange of experts, internship planning, and potential startup formation within TIE's extensive network.

As a natural extension to this exercise, we propose to set up a Centre for Sustainable Design Practices and Entrepreneurship (CSE) in India. We have started planning towards setting up an Institute for Studies in Advanced Design, Research & Innovation to encourage developmental work towards attaining and supporting sustainable design goals and improving the quality of life around us.

ARCH's focus on Transformative Design Leadership is a mindset inculcated through a design-led thinking process. It comprises both a design process and leadership attributes, helping learners accomplish creative confidence, irrespective of the area in creative industries they choose. Transformative Design Leadership is a mindset and heartset initiated through a design-led thinking process, incorporating a design process and leadership attributes. This combination helps learners accomplish creative confidence, irrespective of their chosen area.

With design thinking and the design process as the backbone of this mindset, the additional component of leadership adds to a transformative mindset and heartset initiated through interactions with leaders, projects, spiritual development, and society and culture-rooted learning. Arch College of Design and Business, with a legacy of 24 years, believes in an academic philosophy that nurtures design leaders who are transformative in their careers and lives.

As the head of the ARCH family, I look forward to welcoming you to this dynamic and incredible journey of 'creative learning' and wish you a delightful student life at ARCH!"

The effect and effectiveness of Design Education can be gauged by the products and services we build and consume, and the sensitivity built into the interface of use. Today it may be possible for most people to see design in a wholistic enough manner, to understand the vast range of thought processes and activities aimed at the 'solving of problems' - be it the design of a job, a machine, a process, a system, a structure, a space, a product, a communication, a way of living etc. ARCH continues to establish agreements with advanced foreign Higher Education institutions; to maintain & improve upon globally recognized and accepted benchmarks in the quality and delivery of design education. The most recent agreement signed is with the Sapienza University, Rome, Italy, for student exchange between our institutions for up to 2 semesters, free of tuition expenses. ARCH is a voting Member and participant of extraordinary forums national and international bodies that include the World Design Organization (WDO), the International Foundation of Fashion Technology Institutes (IFFTI), Interaction Design Association (IXDA), CUMULUS, Fashion Design Council of India (FDCI), the Indian Institute of Indian Interior Designers (IIID) and Association of Designers of India (ADI) These memberships offer valuable opportunities for students to participate in International Competitions, Research papers and project presentations, as well as for attending module courses in member institutions, among many other collaborative possibilities.

Cumulus Student Talent Camp (DID)

ARCH College hosted the first-ever Cumulus Student Talent Camp, bringing together 30 participants from 8 universities in 7 countries. Theme of the camp was "Design Identity Direction." Focusing on learning from Living Traditions and working towards SDGs in a regional and global context.

AI in design education

Manan Surana
Assistant Director
Product Designer

Arch's Academic Pedagogy integrates cutting-edge artificial intelligence into the Design Classroom, offering college students studying design a transformative learning experience. By incorporating AI tools, students gain a profound understanding of design principles, trends, and problem-solving methodologies. This not only enhances their creativity but also equips them with the skills demanded in today's dynamic design landscape. The integration of AI fosters a symbiotic relationship between human intuition and technological innovation, empowering students to become adept design practitioners who can navigate and contribute meaningfully to the rapidly evolving design industry.

Arch's commitment to embracing AI in education reflects the imperative for future designers to harness technology for innovative, sustainable and inclusive solutions. Furthermore, Arch believes that AI-infused education prepares students for a future where collaboration between human creativity and advanced technology is key, ensuring they are at the forefront of groundbreaking design solutions. Our commitment to embracing AI underscores the necessity of nurturing adaptive, tech-savvy designers who drive positive change in the global design ecosystem.

Design Process - Product Design AIM: To design a interior space product which is inspired from the culture of two states.

ABSTRACT: The product, a candle oil diffuser is designed to show the heritage of two culturally distinct states of India i.e. Crafts of Rajasthan and the spiritual elements of Sikkim. The basic shape of the diffuser is that of a signing bowl and the base has a movement of a prayer wheel of Sikkim and prayer embossed on the metal body. The intricacy of the Jaali work, elephant motifs and the stepwell oil container are the Rajasthan elements which makes this product highly rich.

JAIPUR METRO RAIL CORPORATION LIMITED

The Jaipur Metro Rail Corporation Ltd. (JMRCL) invited proposals from Fashion and Uniform Design firms to Participate in a "Uniform Design Contest" to design the uniforms for the employees of the Jaipur Metro. ARCH College of Design and Business bid for the project with its proposal, which was executed very meticulously under the guidance of the Director, Ms Archana Surana. The entire design team of ARCH College comprising of Project Manager, Textile & Fashion Design faculty, Technical experts and students kept to the strict timeline and terms of the uniform design contest and conceptualised and developed the final range of garments (uniforms) for six different categories (cadres) as per the design parameters provided by JMRCL. An independent Jury comprising seven members judged the uniforms designed & developed by ARCH as the best and declared ARCH the winner of the bid. The outfits were designed to be a blend of traditional sensibilities & contemporary style. ARCH completed and delivered the project's main phase successfully, having manufactured and submitted all uniform design samples and accessories, and are now the Official Design Consultants to the JMRCL. Another proud feather in the cap for ARCH!

International Collaborative Projects Buyer-Seller Project with Saxion University, Netherlands

ARCH students & faculty, in collaboration with Saxion University of Applied Sciences, entered into a buyer-seller agreement wherein Saxion students created a new retail organisation named 'XO'. The pilot store showcased, along with other products, actual products designed by ARCH students. The objective of this project was to allow the students of both universities to learn how to work on a buying plan, improve their communication skills and allow them to gain international exposure. The project involved preparing prototypes for Fashion accessories for women, bridal wear for women and men, 'bedroom' Interiors and other household accessories concluded with a film from Saxion students who displayed the final products designed by ARCH faculty and students.

Cultural Governance Workshop

ARCH hosted an International Cultural Governance workshop in India as a part of a 9-country tour with ENCATEC under Prof. Annick Schramme & Prof. Ian King. The government of Rajasthan pitched in with ARCH, the organising host institution in India, to the International Cultural Governance 2017 project. ARCH facilitated & coordinated the bringing together of key people involved in managing arts and cultural organisations in India and abroad, at New Delhi. It was finally published as a book "Cultural Governance in a Global Context: An International Perspective on Art Organizations (Palgrave Studies in Business, Arts and Humanities)

ACCESS DEVELOPMENT PROJECT

ACCESS, a not-for-profit company aiming to incubate new institutions towards attaining self-sufficiency and self-sustainability, entered into a joint initiative with the ARCH Project Cell to create a skilled workforce to address the increasing demand of the Jaipur Jewellery Industry. Two separate projects were supported by the DELL Foundation and The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.

The project's objective is directly equipping 725 Jewellery making artisans/micro enterprises (residing in urban/ semi-urban craft dense clusters of Jaipur city) with improved technical skills to enable them to enhance aspects of Design, productivity & quality of their products to compete with changing market demands and aspirations. Furthermore, through direct interaction with grassroots artisans, the project & its processes gave our Design students the rich experience and exposure to craft clusters and, at the same time, built a deeper understanding of the indigenous craft & cultures of the country.

Institutional Capacity Building Research Project by British Council:

UK India Education Research Initiative (UKIERI) started in April 2006 to enhance educational links between India & the UK. ARCH & Perth College, UHI, Scotland, received a 45,000 GBP

UKIERI 2012 grant for Institutional Capacity Building. Administered through the British Council, the grant-funded activities & planned implementation of a 2-year project titled "Communication and Application of Design to Promote Mutual Creative & Cultural Industries".

THE CO-LIFE PROJECT (Responsibility and Innovation via Sustainable and Social Entrepreneurship)

With the aim to create innovative measures in sustainable & social entrepreneurship education, the Co-Life project network is formed between Global Institutes from Finland, India, Belgium and Denmark. The project aims to fulfill educational, social and knowledge related needs, thus strengthening work-life oriented learning through exchanging experiences and good practices of HEI-level (Higher Education Institutions) education in sustainable and social entrepreneurship through India – EU networking in education. This shall result in promoting people to people contacts in participating universities via staff mobility during the Co-Life project and creating plans for student mobility in the future.

PARTNERS IN PROGRESS

Introduction

Design is no more a way to make things look pretty but more of a culture and a way of life, helping enormously in addressing complex design problems at different levels of society, governance, industry, education, healthcare, and more. The Design Culture initiative by the ARCH College of Design & Business is working towards promoting & infusing the concept of Design and Design Thinking not just among school students but also society at large.

So far ARCH has conducted over 30 online design culture Learning sessions with the experts in the various fields, who shared their experiences, knowledge, case studies & other learning with the audience.

The Design Culture initiative is also active in schools where it conducts Design Ability workshops, Design Culture Innovation Center, Designathon and more for school leaders, educators and students.

Vision

The vision of the Design Culture initiative of Arch College of Design and Business is in transforming basic school knowledge towards innovation and creativity oriented learning which is necessary for the rapidly progressing design/make in India mission of our country, by way of nurturing design sensitised professionals of the future.

Mission

Building a better future for the individuals, state, nation and the world by nurturing design sensitivity for empathetic, innovative, competent, committed and thoughtful leaders for the future.

Pink City Design Confluence 2022 conceived, organised and hosted by ARCH College of Design & Business on the theme Form Reform Transform seeks to address all constituents that initiate transformations and the role of Design in bringing about these changes. The confluence seeks to create an interface between the education and industry sectors to debate on how Design-Technology education can be leveraged to support the emerging economies of the new world.

The Design Culture Collective is a community that will engage students in creative activities based on design thinking principles. It would help students to identify several design challenges both within the school and the surrounding physical and societal environment, which could include observable issues linked with public spaces, services, and healthcare etc. In consultation with ARCH College of Design & Business, the school can provide a specific space for carrying out the activities of DCIC.

Along with guidance, tasks, tools and material for prototyping and mentorship, collectives are advised to be mentored by teachers who have undergone Designability Workshops with Arch College. ARCH would play its role as a catalyst to encourage the activities to further progress the collective. ARCH students would spearhead this under the mentorship of the ARCH faculty. Overall, this activity would encourage creative and critical thinking and understanding how complex design challenges can be addressed with a strong sense of teamwork.

The objective of the programme is to give an opportunity for students to build empathetic understanding, develop techniques & innovative thinking to create a design centric approach for school by making them ambassadors and leaders and instill a

- Young Design Ambassadors: (class 6 to 9)
- Design Culture Leaders: Class 10-12
- DesignAbility Workshops for Teachers & Students

We welcome you to collaborate with us in spreading the culture of Design among the youth.

DESIGNABILITY

The intent of the DesignAbility Programme is to sharpen the observation skills of participants to understand Design challenges, immerse in creative thinking, imagination and logical thinking for problem solving.

This would help in cultivating the ability to connect knowledge with innovation and implementing Design fundamentals within the school and outside.

ARCH encourages participation from all member schools wherein best entries are awarded, based on certain criteria based on design related activities, training to students, DCIC activities, innovative teaching methods, school environment, infrastructure, etc. The competition can be annual or term/semester wise. The award would be awarded to schools that perform the best during the academic year.

Vision

To impart core values and nurture a culture of design to a wide range of aspirants, imbibing values of empowerment, co creation & evolution through the application of design thinking & practice.

Mission

Mentoring aspiring learners at all levels of professions for creativity, sensitivity, empathy and innovation towards being successful and efficient in infusing design culture and designability as a way of life and as profession in any domain.

About

The central theme of DCC Academy is to impart premium quality design knowledge with sense, sensitivity and sensibility, inducing within it, design as a way of life. Prominent designers of the country would take the courses which focuses on high pace immersion in the complex design challenges of the uncertain and ambiguous world of today.

It is designed to test design skills across multiple disciplines. The silo type education we are accustomed to is no more the norm for today. The need is trans disciplinary education, coupled with technological and scientific advancements of today. The nature and human value-driven design education is the need of the times we live in. The existing education programmes are complimented with educational diversity for sustainability across various disciplines. Design is considered as a Productive Science, Philosophy and Methodology for producing outputs that fulfil sustainable design requirements for today by using appropriate research and innovation.

Who should attend

This program is tailored to enhance the skills and understanding required in systemic approach to design for professionals and designers from all disciplines, architects, interior designers, town planners, teachers and mentors from design, architecture and interior design faculties.

Programme Highlights

- 3 months hybrid learning courses
- Certification from the institution
- Reputed faculty in the design field
- Case studies
- Project based learning
- Zero Session Online
- Immersion program at campus

INDUSTRY SCENARIO

Design companies across various areas of focus are growing in number as also there is scaling up in existing companies as well. There is a good trend of designers opting to start their own setup. The existing companies are scaling up further by adding more services to their portfolio within diverse design disciplines.

India is a large market for creative industries. The market demands vary in cultures, traditions, religions, customers, food, dressing, etc. At the same time the Indian consumer is becoming more demanding based on their awareness in design.

EMPLOYMENT DISTRIBUTION OF DESIGNERS

Many designers are employed in places other than the design industry. Many companies prefer to have in-house designers in addition to their sourcing of design services. Many companies totally rely on in-house design expertise.

With the changing character of the Indian industry, where it is producing more and more original products, the role of designers is also becoming more intensive. Till recently Indian industry, which was manufacturing focused, relied on designs from outside sources and would employ in-house designers to translate these designs as well as make some minor modifications.

There are no available figures of the exact split between designers working in the design industry vs in-house designers in other industries.
